BACKGROUND

You have recently been elected as the ambassador of the First Things First (FTF) campaign in your college. The Department of Higher Education and Training in partnership with the Department of Health are planning to hold an awareness campaign at your College. The primary aim of this campaign will be to encourage health-seeking behaviour among the students by advocating regular testing and screening for diseases such as HIV/AIDS, TB and cancer. As FTF Ambassador, you are requested to prepare a public notice that will stimulate the interest of students to come and be part of this worthy cause.

Complete the tasks below.

AN OPEN INVITE TO A FIRST THINGS FIRST PROGRAMME

First Things First (FTF) is a programme operating under the Higher Education and Training HIV/AIDS Programme or HEAIDS. The primary purpose of FTF is to increase knowledge and eliminate mesinformation around communicable and non-communicable disease in institutions of higher learning. Our College will be hosting its maiden FTF campaign to coincide with the World Aids Day. I would therefore wish to invite the student population to come and be part of this worthy initiative. By the end of the day, those in attendance will:

Two equal Columns

1) Have a deeper insight on the purpose and goals of the First Thing First Campaign.

2) Understand why First Thing First programme is necessary and important.

3) Be equipped with factual information on health risks to encourage decision making and health seeking behaviour.

- Understand the importance of, and need for, testing and screening on a regular basis.

- Demonstrate an understanding of the facts around causes, symptoms, treatment, and preventative measures for HIV, TB and STIs.

- Better understand the roles and responsibilities of peer educators and peers in FTF programme.
